[Faint, mostly illegible handwritten text, possibly a letter or official document.]

Handwritten Title

[Faint handwritten text, possibly a list or continuation of the document.]

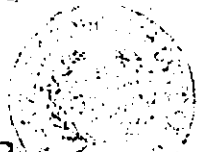

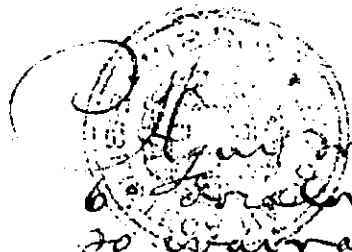

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a historical document or letter. The text is dense and spans most of the page's width. It appears to be a formal communication, possibly a royal decree or a legal document, given the reference to a king and various administrative details. The script is highly stylized and characteristic of the 17th or 18th century.

Handwritten signature or name, possibly "D. Bento M. de Lourenço", written in a large, flowing cursive hand. The signature is positioned centrally below the main body of text.

 My dear Sir,
 I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 27th inst. in relation to the matter mentioned therein.
 I am sorry to hear that you are unable to visit Cuba at the present time, but I trust that you will be able to do so in the future.
 I have the pleasure to inform you that the Government of Cuba is very anxious to receive you and to hear from you.
 I am, Sir, very respectfully,
 Your obedient servant,
 General C. G. de Céspedes
 President of the Republic
